Summer camp registration now open at Brevard Zoo

MELBOURNE, Fla., March 10, 2020 — As the warmer season approaches, parents looking ahead can now register their children for summer camps at Brevard Zoo.

From June 1 to August 7, the Zoo is offering a variety of half- and full-day camps for children entering kindergarten through 12th grade. Campers can expect to learn about animal habitats, behavior, communication and more. Returning for its second year is Career Explorers, a camp designed for high schoolers to explore a variety of jobs in the biological field.

“Summer is always a fun time to be at the Zoo,” said Janelle Cummins, the Zoo’s interim director of education programs. “The camps allow kids to spend time outside, make friends and see the Zoo behind the scenes, all while getting a hands-on, educational experience.”

An early bird discount applies to campers registered before Wednesday, April 1. Additional discounts for select camps are available to Zoo members. Registration and more information are available at www.brevardzoo.org/zoo-camps.
