Registration now open for Zoo summer camps

MELBOURNE, Fla., February 12, 2018 — There may still be a few weeks left of winter, but parents looking ahead can start planning their children's summer schedules by registering them for camps at Brevard Zoo.

"Summer camps are always a great time of year," said education curator Janelle Cummins. "Everyone at the Zoo gets excited. The kids spend time outdoors, explore the Zoo, meet lots of animals, go behind the scenes and make friends. It's a totally unique, hands-on educational experience."

From May 29 to August 3, the Zoo is offering a variety of half-day and full-day camps for children entering kindergarten through ninth grade. Topics encompass animal adaptations, conservation, the work of wildlife researchers and the "yucky" side of science.

An early bird discount applies to campers registered before Thursday, April 15. Additional discounts for some camps are available to Zoo members. Registration and more information is available at www.brevardzoo.org/zoo-camps.
